

Tangled Garden

Sunday Workshops
Presented by Nina Newington

Hwy 1, Grand Pre. All Workshops run 2-4:30pm, rain or shine and include a Tangled Garden treat (think lavender ice cream...) Beverly McClare will add her thoughts and answer questions about the extraordinary garden she has created. $40 each, $175 for all five.

May 30th Creating Garden Rooms

A garden divided in to 'rooms' allows for variety and surprise. It can make a small garden feel much larger. In the Arts and Crafts tradition, the Tangled Garden features a range of hedges, formal and informal, as well as some very modern variations on the theme.

June 27th Roses and other Fragrant Delights

Smell is essential to a garden of sensual delight...

July 18th Favourite Plants

An introduction to the cream of the crop, old and new.

August 29th Tasty Gardens

Incorporating fruits, vegetables, herbs and edible flowers into the ornamental garden.

September 19th Beautiful Corpses

Late blooming perennials with lovely seed heads and winter structure.

Preregistration is requested. Please call Tangled Garden at 902 542 9811 or Nina at 902 825 4347.

Nina Newington M.A. has made her living designing and planting gardens for the past sixteen years. Originally from England, she immigrated to Canada in 2006, having spent twenty years in the zone 5a hills of Western Massachusetts. She and her wife have settled on the North Mountain of Nova Scotia as the perfect place to make a new garden. This may or may not have been wise. In her winter incarnation she's a writer whose novel, Where Bones Dance, won the 2008 Alberta Literary Awards' prize for best novel.
